STANDING RULES OF THE FACULTY COUNCIL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHARLOTTE

ARTICLE I
DEFINITIONS AND SOURCES OF AUTHORITY

The composition, powers, duties, meetings, quorum, parliamentary authority and recall provision of the Faculty Council are defined in Article VII of the Constitution of the Faculty. Officers of the Faculty and of the Faculty Council are listed in Article IV of the Constitution.

ARTICLE II
PURPOSE OF THESE STANDING RULES

It is the purpose of these Standing Rules to establish normal operating procedures for the Faculty Council. The Constitution of the Faculty (Article VII, Section 2) gives the power to conduct the affairs of the Faculty to the Faculty Council. It further provides (Article V, Section 7) that “the Executive Committee and all other Committees shall report regularly to the Faculty Council.” It specifies the functions over which the Faculty, through the Faculty Council, will have authority. The articles that follow specify the relationships among the Faculty Council, the Faculty Executive Committee, and other Faculty Committees. This document supersedes the By-Laws of the Executive Committee of the Faculty as ratified March 21, 1973 and subsequently amended.

ARTICLE III
FACULTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE (FEC)

Section 1: The composition, powers, and duties of the Faculty Executive Committee are established in the Constitution of the Faculty, Article V.

Section 2: The Faculty Executive Committee shall be responsible for establishing the agenda of the Faculty Council and for ensuring that Faculty business is handled with dispatch. All matters coming to the Faculty for consideration by the Faculty Council under the provisions of Article III, Section 3 of the Constitution (except for curriculum proposals) shall be addressed to the President of the Faculty. When the issue is appropriate to the charges of more than one committee, the President may refer the matter to more than one committee. The President however, shall designate the appropriate standing or special committee that is to draft a single recommendation, which may include minority recommendations, for the Executive Committee.

The President will establish the latest date by which the recommendation is to be completed for Executive Committee review. At its discretion, the Faculty Executive Committee may refer a committee recommendation back to that or another committee for reconsideration or revision, but the standing or special committee to which the matter was initially referred may then require direct transmittal of its recommendation to the Faculty Council.

Section 3: Meetings of the Faculty Executive Committee

- A. The Executive Committee shall establish regular meeting times. The Faculty President may call special meetings in addition to regularly scheduled meetings in order to conduct the affairs of the Faculty. The Secretary of the Faculty shall distribute, with one week's notice to all members, a full agenda for each meeting.
- B. All meetings shall be conducted according to the rules contained in Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised.
- C. A Quorum shall consist of two thirds of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE IV
MEETINGS OF THE FACULTY COUNCIL

The Constitution of the Faculty (Article VII, Section 3) specifies that the Faculty Council shall have at least three regularly scheduled meetings per year. As a standing procedure, regular meetings will be held at least three times each semester on a schedule to be determined at the beginning of the academic year by the Executive Committee. The agenda for each meeting, regular or special, will be distributed by the President at least one week prior to the meeting. When the Faculty Council takes actions on a recommendation from a Standing or Special Committee, the Secretary of the Faculty will report this action to the originating committee in a timely manner.

ARTICLE V COMMITTEES

Section 1: Committees of the Faculty:

- A. Committees of the Faculty are of two types: the first type includes those responsible for action relating to Section 3, Paragraph A of Article III of the Faculty Constitution, for which the Faculty assumes primary policy-making responsibility. The second type includes those committees responsible for actions described in Section 3, Paragraph B of Article III of the Faculty Constitution, concerning which the Faculty has consultative responsibilities, but which do not lie totally within Faculty jurisdiction. In addition to submitting all proposals to the Executive Committee for Faculty Council review, all committees of either type will submit annual written reports to the Faculty Council prior to the last scheduled Faculty Council meeting of each academic year. This report will include information on committee workload, the status of unfinished business, newly established procedures, and general effectiveness.
- B. The Faculty membership of each standing committee concerned with primary policy-making and academic planning responsibilities of the Faculty shall consist of the following except the Academic Planning and Budget Committee, the Faculty Research Grants Committee, and the Honors Council:

To insure continuity, terms of Faculty elected by the colleges shall be staggered so that one half of these members are elected each year.
9. Nominations for an election of chairperson shall be as provided in Article VI of the Faculty Constitution for at-large members of the standing committees of the faculty. The Nominations Committee shall give preference to candidates that have previously served on the relevant committee.

5. The committee chairperson shall be a full-time faculty member elected by its members at the committee's last meeting each spring. The Nominations, Honors, and Awards Committee will provide the Part-time Faculty Committee with a slate of at least two full-time faculty from which to select their chairperson.

D. Special and Ad Hoc Committees

1. Committees may be organized for special purpose where their proposed functions are not under the jurisdiction of an existing committee. They will in each case be designated to terminate either upon completion of specified tasks or on a specified date.
2. Whenever possible, assignments should be given to the most appropriate standing committee rather than to a newly created committee.
3. Faculty opinion on any ad hoc committee constituted by any segment of the University community can be considered representative of the Faculty only if faculty delegates are appointed by the Faculty Council.

E. Procedures for Soliciting Faculty Representation on Standing and Ad-Hoc Committees Outside the Faculty Governance Structure

1. Requests for faculty representation on standing or ad hoc committees should be submitted by the convening authority in writing to the Faculty Executive Committee. That request should identify the name and purpose of the committee, its structure, its aim and responsibility, whether it is a policy making or advisory body, the requested number of faculty representatives, the duration of the appointment, the anticipated meeting schedule, the expected workload, and the general qualifications of suitable candidates. If it is an ad hoc committee, its expected establishment and disestablishment dates should also be provided.
2. The FEC will consider the request at its next scheduled meeting. If the request is approved, the Faculty President will extend an invitation to Faculty Council members and to all eligible faculty members soliciting interest in serving on the committee. This will constitute Faculty Council appointment. Interested faculty members will be instructed to contact the convening authority directly.
3. The convening authority will review candidates and select a candidate or candidates to join the committee, reporting that selection to the Faculty President. The process would be repeated as needed to fill committee vacancies that occur. The Faculty President will ensure that faculty members serving on these extra-Council committees are recognized on the Faculty Council Web site and in other relevant documents.
4. Faculty members serving on extra-Council committees will periodically, at the request of the Faculty President, report their committee activity to the FEC.

Section 7: Reports from Ad Hoc and Standing Committees of the Faculty

Chairs of Ad Hoc and Standing Committees shall provide annual reports of their committee's action to the Faculty President. These reports shall be made available on the Faculty Governance website. The annual reports shall include at least:

- Name of the committee
- Committee members with designation of chairperson
- The specific charge as received with an indication of the initiator

- The method of operation which was employed in gathering information upon which the report and recommendations were based
- A narrative including critical dates and related recommendations and rationale.

Section 8: Procedures for Submitting Motions from Committees to the Faculty Executive Committee

- A. According to Robert's Rules, motions are proposals for action by the group (the Faculty Council, in this instance). Motions from committees to the FEC must be in writing and should begin with a clear statement such as, "The _____ Committee moves that we establish an ad hoc committee to consider the issue of ...," or "The _____ Committee moves that we adopt the following proposal:..." Subsequent language in the motion should also be clear, describing precisely what it is the committee is proposing. Using clear, actionable language will focus discussion in the Faculty Council meeting and reduce the risk of misunderstanding or confusion, especially when it comes to voting on the measure.
- B. A Resolution is a type of motion that expresses a statement of policy, principle, sentiment or feeling. A resolution generally has a preamble (one or more "whereas" statements) followed by a declarative conclusion (one or more "therefore be it resolved" statements).
- C. Motions, including resolutions, submitted by committees to the FEC for Faculty Council agenda inclusion will be considered on their merits by FEC members. The FEC, after discussion, may exercise several options:
1. The FEC may vote to place the item on the Council agenda. Doing so does not necessarily imply FEC endorsement of the motion but rather that the FEC deemed the item worthy of Council discussion and vote. The FEC may forward the item to the Council with or without comment. If a comment is included, that comment may express support for or opposition to the item.
  2. The FEC may ask the submitting Committee representative on the FEC to effect specific and minor changes to the motion with the stipulation that, assuming those changes are made, the item may go forward to the Faculty Council.
  3. The FEC may defer a vote and request that the submitting Committee further refine the motion or submit additional material, supporting data, or other items to facilitate a more informed determination. The revised motion or the original motion with additional material will then be considered at a subsequent FEC meeting.

4. The FEC may vote against the item and decline to forward the item to the Council. In that case, the FEC should normally provide its reasoning to the submitting Committee.
- D. When a motion reaches the Faculty Council in this manner, it is considered a motion to the floor and need only be seconded to begin discussion. The motion is then subject to treatment under Robert's Rules. In that sense, the motion may be voted for or against, postponed, referred to committee, objected to, divided, rescinded after approval, amended, laid on the table, withdrawn, reconsidered, etc.

This process shall continue until two experienced former delegates are found to serve as alternates. The names of the alternates shall be submitted to the Faculty Executive Committee and the Faculty Council for official election.
